

Tech Diversity In Nigeria

By Noah Olatoye
Founder and CEO, InstinctHub

With technology skills, we can redefine inequality, so everyone has the right to pursue their purpose.

Noah Olatoye,
Nigerian programmer and Founder,
InstinctHub Techsavvy Limited

The Big Problem

According to the Nigeria Bureau of Statistics (NBS), 33.1% of Nigerians are unemployed.

With over 200 million population, this means 66.2 million Nigerians are out of a job.

Every year, Nigeria produces about 500,000 graduates coming to compete with the unavailable jobs.

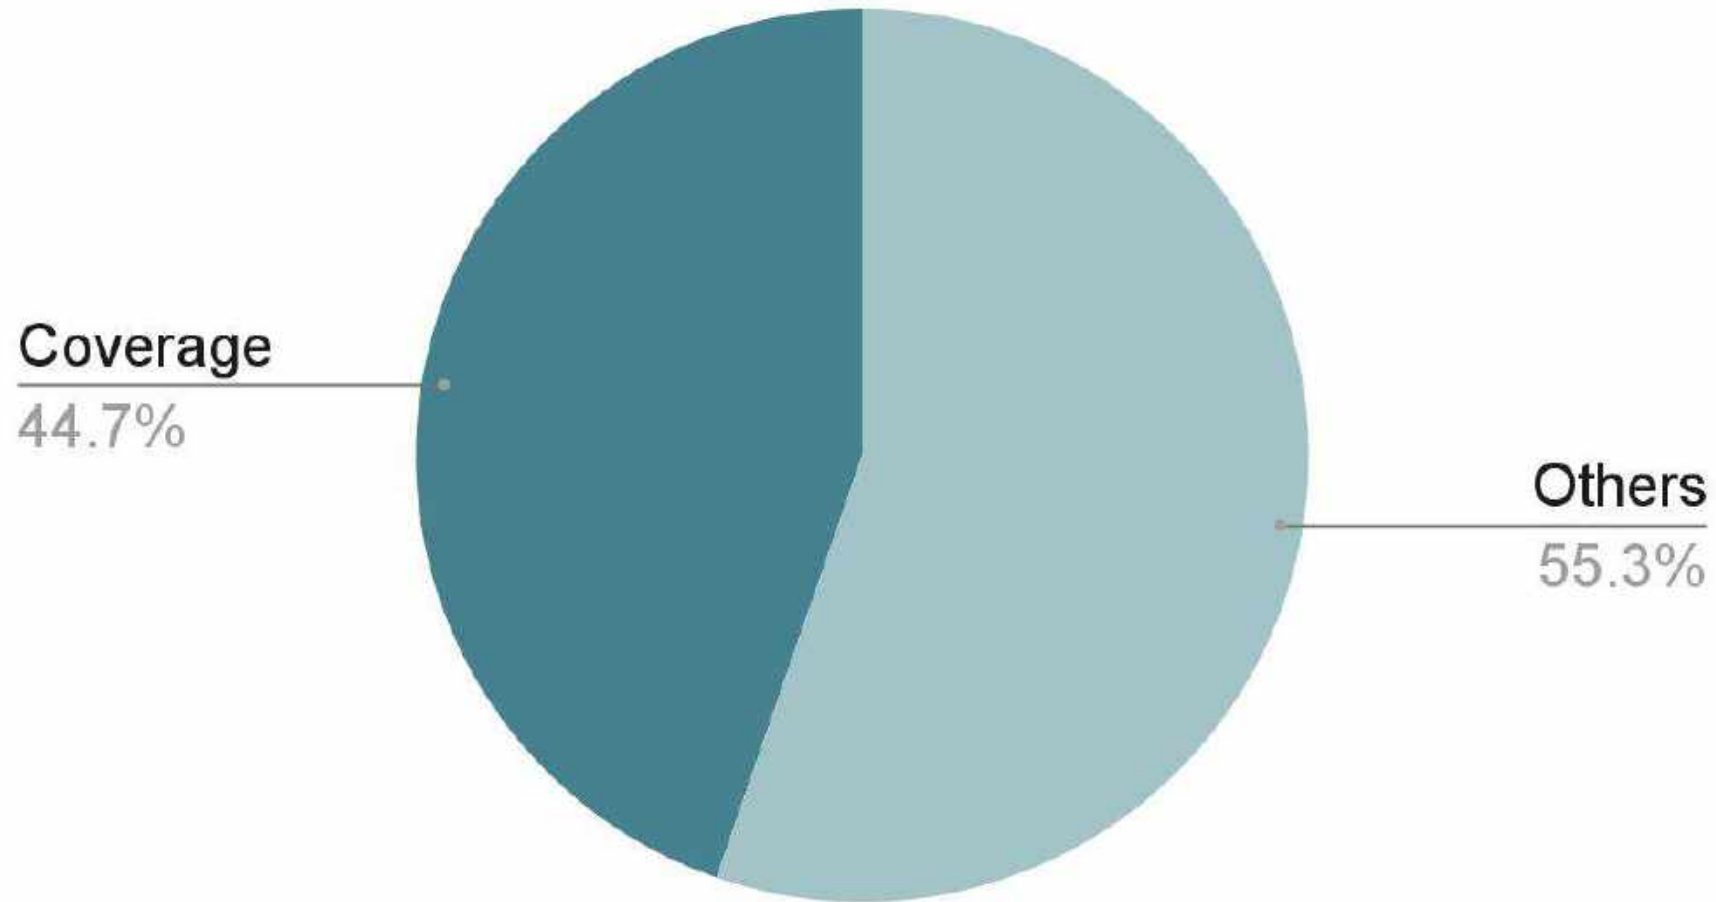

Our Goal

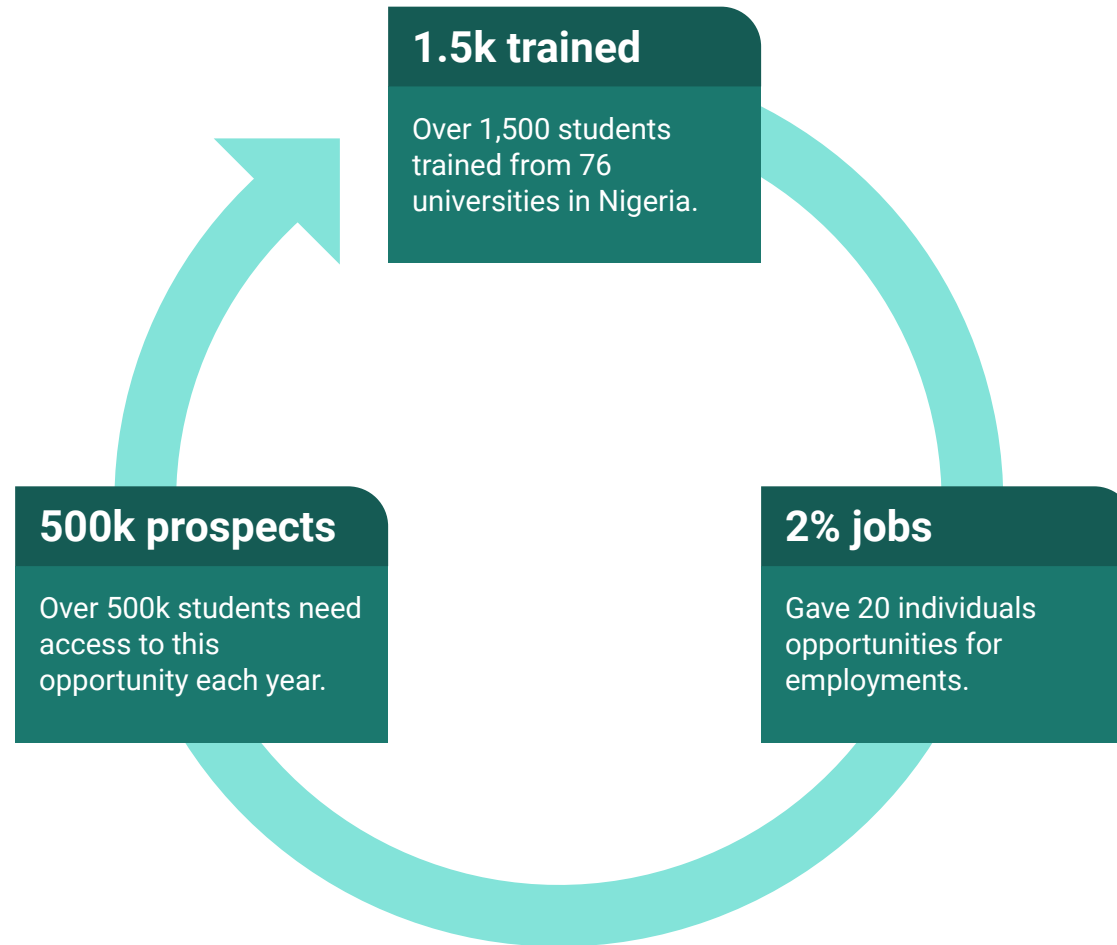

Train 100,000 people and place 20% into direct jobs which will create wealth for families locked out of employment opportunities.

Universities in Nigeria

The Numbers

Resources:

Mobilising the community leads, and providing learning resources.

$50k

Train 1k students - $50 per learner.

$100k

Train 10k students - $10 per learner.

$500k

Train 100k students - $5 per learner.

*Not just train them,
provide them jobs.*

The Flow

With your hand of support, we can reach out to more people!

nolatoeye@instincthub.com

Chat with me via WhatsApp

 InstinctHub.com